Medior .NET Developer

Our client is a young and dynamic company. They started 4 years ago and are a real FinTech player. They work with parties in the legal sector, such as bailiffs, lawyers and their ties with the order-to-cash processes of all sorts of companies. In this branch, they are the gamechanger with their SaaS and platform approach. Their focus is business model innovation, technology and usability.

To realize this, they invest a lot in their team and their people. They build top-teams of enthusiastic people with top-skills. From their side, they do their utmost to be a top-employer and to create the space to develop yourself. Their core values are authenticity, respect and freedom. They find it important that you feel comfortable and involved in the company. Therefore, they go for the new way of working, where traditional hierarchy, fixed places and hours are replaced by an informal and flat structure with a lot of flexibility in place and time, and with colleagues that you can count on.
