Who are you?

We are looking for you with technical training and experience as a project manager in ventilation. You have good leadership skills and are a committed leader who is able to drive projects forward. You have good knowledge of project economics and contract law, and are committed to achieving results and striving for the project's profitability. It's important that you have a customer oriented approach and the ability to maintain and create good business relationships. B driving license is a requirement as you will be responsible for projects in Trollhättan and Uddevalla with surroundings.

Work assignments

The role as a project manager means that you are responsible for installation projects from project planning to delivery. Your duties will consist of:

- Being responsible for calculation, results and execution of projects
- Developing and maintaining customer relations
- Working with purchasing, resource planning and quality and work environment work
- Leading and engaging employees
- To participate in Bravidia's improvement work

As a project manager at Bravidia, you are given freedom under responsibility. We believe in your ability to surpass customer expectations through your knowledge, your drive and your interest.
